

Emre Kaya

1.

Write about the ways to reduce the carbon footprint of individuals living in cities.

Write between 140-160 words...

2.

Listen to the conversation between Samantha and customer relations of Express Deliveries and choose the best alternative

Why does Samantha call Express Deliveries customer line?

- ☐ A To book a ticket to San Diego
- ☐ B To order an express delivery
- ☐ C To make an excuse
- ☒ D To check on a package

3.

Listen to the conversation between Samantha and customer relations of Express Deliveries and choose the best alternative

What excuse does the customer relations give to Samantha?

- ☐ A The package is hung up at the factory.
- ☒ B The driver is hung up in traffic.
- ☐ C The man is hung up on the computer.
- ☐ D The driver is hung up at the airport.

4.

Listen to an advertisement and choose the best alternative

What is a white noise machine?

- ☒ A A machine making a gentle sound to cover other noises
- ☐ B A music machine with bright lights
- ☐ C A bright white machine that keeps you awake at night
- ☐ D A machine to help your neighbor's kids

5.

Listen to an advertisement and choose the best alternative

Which of the following is NOT one of the sounds of the machine?

- ☐ A Gentle breeze
- ☒ B Shifting leaves
- ☐ C Flowing water
- ☐ D Sea waves

6.

Listen to a high school senior student and choose the best alternative

Which of the following is TRUE about American high school students?

- ☐ A They cannot choose their teachers.
- ☐ B They must work part-time.
- ☐ C They are under tremendous pressure.
- ☒ D They can choose their own subjects.

7.

Listen to a high school senior student and choose the best alternative

Which of the following is NOT mentioned as an after-school activity?

- ☐ A Playing baseball
- ☐ B Participating in a business club
- ☒ C Watching dramas on TV
- ☐ D Going to part-time jobs

8.

Bethany is really _____. She thinks about the problem for days and comes up with a logical solution.

- ☐ A sophisticated
- ☐ B unique
- ☐ C practical
- ☒ D sensible

9.

Our directors _____ us to leave work early on Fridays because of the heavy traffic during rush hours.

- ☒ A allow
- ☐ B let
- ☐ C persuade
- ☐ D encourage 10.

Henry James made a/an _____ for his enormous success as an American author during the modernist period.

- ☐ A expense
- ☐ B investor
- ☒ C reputation
- ☐ D profit

11.

I have always wanted to be a doctor and at last, my dream has _____.

- ☐ A fallen flat
- ☒ B come true
- ☐ C taken place
- ☐ D made sure

12.

Most experts claim that parents shouldn't blame themselves if their children _____ behave at school.

- ☐ A dis-
- ☐ B over-
- ☒ C mis-
- ☐ D re-

13.

The flight company doesn't pay my money back. I can't _____ what to do about the problem!

- ☐ A put off
- ☒ B work out
- ☐ C carry on
- ☐ D keep up

14.

I would prefer something _____ like salty biscuits to eat because I am allergic to sugar and lemon.

- ☐ A sour
- ☐ B disgusting
- ☐ C raw
- ☒ D savoury

15.

If you _____ hard, you _____ your test. I know it! You are so smart!

- ☒ A study / will pass
- ☐ B will study / pass
- ☐ C would study / passed
- ☐ D studied / would pass

16.

The _____ sugar you eat, the healthier you will be. It is not really good for you.

- ☐ A least
- ☒ B less
- ☐ C most
- ☐ D more

17.

You _____ park here. Don't you see the sign? It is forbidden, you will get a fine!

- ☐ A needn't
- ☐ B don't have to
- ☐ C shouldn't
- ☒ D mustn't

18.

My sister _____ Paris twice so far in her life. The first one was a business trip, and the second was for pleasure. Who knows when she will go there again?

- ☐ A has been visiting
- ☒ B has visited
- ☐ C had
- ☐ D had had

19.

The milk _____ be bad. It smells really strange, and it looks yellowish. Don't even taste it or you will definitely get sick!

- ☐ A could
- ☐ B might
- ☒ C must
- ☐ D can

20.

Sultan Ahmet Mosque, _____ is also known as the Blue Mosque, is located in Istanbul.

- ☒ A which
- ☐ B where
- ☐ C that
- ☐ D what

21.

I'm sure it will be a great show. If the tickets _____ so expensive, we _____ to the concert. Unfortunately, we don't have that much money, so we will watch the videos later.

- ☐ A aren't / will go
- ☒ B weren't / would go
- ☐ C hadn't been / would have gone
- ☐ D aren't / go

22.

Read the text below and answer the question.

HERBERT LAWRENCE

English story writer, critic, poet and painter, Herbert Lawrence was born in Nottinghamshire, in central England. He was one of the greatest figures in 20th century English literature. Lawrence was the fourth child of a coal miner who was a heavy drinker. His mother was a former school teacher and she was obviously far more educated than her husband. Lawrence's childhood was dominated by poverty. His mother and father had great arguments and there were so many problems between them. In a letter to the poet R. Annand Taylor he later wrote, "Their marriage life has been one bloody fight. I was born hating my father: as early as ever I can remember, I shivered with horror when he touched me." Encouraged by his mother, with whom he had a deep emotional bond and who is named as Mrs Morel in the first successful book that he wrote, Lawrence became interested in arts.

He worked as a clerk in a factory and then four years as a teacher. After studies at Nottingham University, Lawrence pursued a teaching career at Davidson Road School in South London. He considered teaching as his dream job. Lawrence's mother died in 1910- he helped her die by giving her an overdose of sleeping medicine. This scene was re-created in one of his novels entitled as Sons and Lovers.

Lawrence was so fond of his mother that _____.

- ☐ A he decided to encourage his students to love arts
- ☐ B he chose to become a teacher like her
- ☐ C he wrote Sons and Lovers to show how much he loved her
- ☒ D two of his books had something about her mother's life

23.

Read the text below and answer the question.

HERBERT LAWRENCE

English story writer, critic, poet and painter, Herbert Lawrence was born in Nottinghamshire, in central England. He was one of the greatest figures in 20th century English literature. Lawrence was the fourth child of a coal miner who was a heavy drinker. His mother was a former school teacher and she was obviously far more educated than her husband. Lawrence's childhood was dominated by poverty. His mother and father had great arguments and there were so many problems between them. In a letter to the poet R. Annand Taylor he later wrote, "Their marriage life has been one bloody fight. I was born hating my father: as early as ever I can remember, I shivered with horror when he touched me." Encouraged by his mother, with whom he had a deep emotional bond and who is named as Mrs Morel in the first successful book that he wrote, Lawrence became interested in arts.

He worked as a clerk in a factory and then four years as a teacher. After studies at Nottingham University, Lawrence pursued a teaching career at Davidson Road School in South London. He considered teaching as his dream job. Lawrence's mother died in 1910- he helped her die by giving her an overdose of sleeping medicine. This scene was re-created in one of his novels entitled as Sons and Lovers.

It is clear from the reading text that Lawrence's childhood was problematic _____.

- ☐ A simply because his father was a coal miner and drunk
- ☐ B as his father was better educated than his mother
- ☒ C as there were fights between her mother and father
- ☐ D because his mother was very strict as an old teacher

24.

Read the text below and answer the question.

HERBERT LAWRENCE

English story writer, critic, poet and painter, Herbert Lawrence was born in Nottinghamshire, in central England. He was one of the greatest figures in 20th century English literature. Lawrence was the fourth child of a coal miner who was a heavy drinker. His mother was a former school teacher and she was obviously far more educated than her husband. Lawrence's childhood was dominated by poverty. His mother and father had great arguments and there were so many problems between "them". In a letter to the poet R. Annand Taylor he later wrote, "Their marriage life has been one bloody fight. I was born hating my father: as early as ever I can remember, I shivered with horror when he touched me." Encouraged by his mother, with whom he had a deep emotional bond and who is named as Mrs Morel in the first successful book that he wrote, Lawrence became interested in arts.

He worked as a clerk in a factory and then four years as a teacher. After studies at Nottingham University, Lawrence pursued a teaching career at Davidson Road School in South London. He considered teaching as his dream job. Lawrence's mother died in 1910- he helped her die by giving her an overdose of sleeping medicine. This scene was re-created in one of his novels entitled as Sons and Lovers.

What does the underlined word "them" in the first paragraph refer to?

- ☒ A his parents
- ☐ B poor people
- ☐ C the arts
- ☐ D the poets

25.

Read the text below and answer the question.

HERBERT LAWRENCE

English story writer, critic, poet and painter, Herbert Lawrence was born in Nottinghamshire, in central England. He was one of the greatest figures in 20th century English literature. Lawrence was the fourth child of a coal miner who was a heavy drinker. His mother was a former school teacher and she was obviously far more educated than her husband. Lawrence's childhood was dominated by poverty. His mother and father had great arguments and there were so many problems between them. In a letter to the poet R. Annand Taylor he later wrote, "Their marriage life has been one bloody fight. I was born hating my father: as early as ever I can remember, I shivered with horror when he touched me." Encouraged by his mother, with whom he had a deep emotional bond and who is named as Mrs Morel in the first successful book that he wrote, Lawrence became interested in arts.

He worked as a clerk in a factory and then four years as a teacher. After studies at Nottingham University, Lawrence pursued a teaching career at Davidson Road School in South London. He considered teaching as his dream job. Lawrence's mother died in 1910- he helped her die by giving her an overdose of sleeping medicine. This scene was re-created in one of his novels entitled as Sons and Lovers.

We can understand from the reading text that _____.

- ☐ A Lawrence's parents only argued because of the difference between their educational levels
- ☐ B Lawrence's mother killed herself by buying a lot of sleeping pills and taking them
- ☐ C Mrs Morel was a lady whom Lawrence's mother loved best
- ☒ D Lawrence was afraid of his father who probably beat him sometimes 26.

Read the text below and answer the question.

HERBERT LAWRENCE

English story writer, critic, poet and painter, Herbert Lawrence was born in Nottinghamshire, in central England. He was one of the greatest figures in 20th century English literature. Lawrence was the fourth child of a coal miner who was a heavy drinker. His mother was a former school teacher and she was obviously far more educated than her husband. Lawrence's childhood was dominated by poverty. His mother and father had great arguments and there were so many problems between them. In a letter to the poet R. Annand Taylor he later wrote, "Their marriage life has been one bloody fight. I was born hating my father: as early as ever I can remember, I shivered with horror when he touched me." Encouraged by his mother, with whom he had a deep emotional bond and who is named as Mrs Morel in the first successful book that he wrote, Lawrence became interested in arts.

He worked as a clerk in a factory and then four years as a teacher. After studies at Nottingham University, Lawrence "pursued" a teaching career at Davidson Road School in South London. He considered teaching as his dream job. Lawrence's mother died in 1910- he helped her die by giving her an overdose of sleeping medicine. This scene was re-created in one of his novels entitled as Sons and Lovers.

What does the word "pursued" in the second paragraph mean?

- ☒ A tried to achieve something for a long period of time
- ☐ B discovered information about a subject or event
- ☐ C persuaded someone to do something
- ☐ D had something to do with an important action

27.

Read the text below and answer the question.

You go out for dinner and order spaghetti with your favourite sauce. The pasta is so much that it is falling off the plate. Yes, your meal is appetizing. But isn't it more than you wanted?

In an era when consumers look for great deals, it often seems that the bigger things are, the better value for your money. "Supersize it", the slogan from a fast food restaurant chain, describes it shortly. But more isn't always better- especially when it comes to weight loss. Sometimes leaving a little food on your plate is worth much more than the money it might cost. Watching how much food you eat, not just limiting unhealthy foods, is the key to good health and permanent weight loss. Healthy foods are not without any restrictions. Too many calories from any food, not just fatty or fried ones, can cause weight gain.

In today's "the-more-you-get-the-better" society, package sizes keep growing. Big bottles of soda, extra-large bags of chips and king-size candy bars are everywhere. But as these foods get larger, so do our waistlines. Bigger packages and food items definitely distort portion control. In fact, research from the University of Illinois shows that some people tend to eat more from larger food containers. When movie-goers were given pop-corn containers of two different sizes, the people given the larger ones ate 44 per cent more.

What is the best title for this reading text?

- ☐ A The History of Food Restaurants
- ☒ B Bigger May Not Be Better
- ☐ C Big Restaurants and Healthy Lives
- ☐ D Bigger Restaurants Can Have Less Food

28.

Read the text below and answer the question.

You go out for dinner and order spaghetti with your favourite sauce. The pasta is so much that it is falling off the plate. Yes, your meal is appetizing. But isn't it more than you wanted?

In an era when consumers look for great deals, it often seems that the bigger things are, the better value for your money. "Supersize it", the slogan from a fast food restaurant chain, describes it shortly. But more isn't always better- especially when it comes to weight loss. Sometimes leaving a little food on your plate is worth much more than the money it might cost. Watching how much food you eat, not just limiting unhealthy foods, is the key to good health and permanent weight loss. Healthy foods are not without any restrictions. Too many calories from any food, not just fatty or fried ones, can cause weight gain.

In today's "the-more-you-get-the-better" society, package sizes keep growing. Big bottles of soda, extra-large bags of chips and king-size candy bars are everywhere. But as these foods get larger, so do our waistlines. Bigger packages and food items definitely distort portion control. In fact, research from the University of Illinois shows that some people tend to eat more from larger food containers. When movie-goers were given pop-corn containers of two different sizes, the people given the larger ones ate 44 per cent more.

According to the reading text, what is the fashion in the fast-food industry today?

- ☐ A not to worry about one's weight
- ☐ B to eat healthy foods and vegetables only
- ☒ C to sell food and drink in large packages
- ☐ D not to know much about the food prices

29.

Read the text below and answer the question.

You go out for dinner and order spaghetti with your favourite sauce. The pasta is so much that it is falling off the plate. Yes, your meal is appetizing. But isn't it more than you wanted?

In an era when consumers look for great deals, it often seems that the bigger things are, the better value for your money. "Supersize it", the slogan from a fast food restaurant chain, describes it shortly. But more isn't always better- especially when it comes to weight loss. Sometimes leaving a little food on your plate is worth much more than the money it might cost. Watching how much food you eat, not just limiting unhealthy foods, is the key to good health and permanent weight loss. Healthy foods are not without any restrictions. Too many calories from any food, not just fatty or fried ones, can cause weight gain.

In today's "the-more-you-get-the-better" society, package sizes keep growing. Big bottles of soda, extra-large bags of chips and king-size candy bars are everywhere. But as these foods get larger, so do our waistlines. Bigger packages and food items definitely distort portion control. In fact, research from the University of Illinois shows that some people tend to eat more from larger food containers. When movie-goers were given pop-corn containers of two different sizes, the people given the larger ones ate 44 per cent more.

Which one is TRUE, according to the reading text?

- ☒ A Body sizes are becoming larger at the same time as package sizes are getting bigger.
- ☐ B We are eating healthier food although we are eating more.
- ☐ C "Supersize it" is a slogan that doesn't actually mean an increase in package or plate sizes.
- ☐ D People eat the same amount of food but they never change the size or kinds of fast food.

30.

Read the text below and answer the question.

You go out for dinner and order spaghetti with your favourite sauce. The pasta is so much that it is falling off the plate. Yes, your meal is appetizing. But isn't it more than you wanted?

In an era when consumers look for great deals, it often seems that the bigger things are, the better value for your money. "Supersize it", the slogan from a fast food restaurant chain, describes it shortly. But more isn't always better- especially when it comes to weight loss. Sometimes leaving a little food on your plate is worth much more than the money it might cost. Watching how much food you eat, not just limiting unhealthy foods, is the key to good health and permanent weight loss. Healthy foods are not without any restrictions. Too many calories from any food, not just fatty or fried ones, can cause weight gain.

In today's "the-more-you-get-the-better" society, package sizes keep growing. Big bottles of soda, extra-large bags of chips and king-size candy bars are everywhere. But as these foods get larger, so do our waistlines. Bigger packages and food items definitely "distort" portion control. In fact, research from the University of Illinois shows that some people tend to eat more from larger food containers. When movie-goers were given pop-corn containers of two different sizes, the people given the larger ones ate 44 per cent more.

What does the word "distort" mean in the last paragraph?

- ☐ A pay attention to something
- ☐ B have larger amounts of food
- ☐ C continue to do something
- ☒ D change in a negative way

31.

Read the text below and answer the question.

You go out for dinner and order spaghetti with your favourite sauce. The pasta is so much that it is falling off the plate. Yes, your meal is appetizing. But isn't it more than you wanted?

In an era when consumers look for great deals, it often seems that the bigger things are, the better value for your money. "Supersize it", the slogan from a fast food restaurant chain, describes it shortly. But more isn't always better- especially when it comes to weight loss. Sometimes leaving a little food on your plate is worth much more than the money it might cost. Watching how much food you eat, not just limiting unhealthy foods, is the key to good health and permanent weight loss. Healthy foods are not without any restrictions. Too many calories from any food, not just fatty or fried ones, can cause weight gain.

In today's "the-more-you-get-the-better" society, package sizes keep growing. Big bottles of soda, extra-large bags of chips and king-size candy bars are everywhere. But as these foods get larger, so do our waistlines. Bigger packages and food items definitely distort portion control. In fact, research from the University of Illinois shows that some people tend to eat more from larger food containers. When movie-goers were given pop-corn containers of two different sizes, the people given the larger ones ate 44 per cent more.

We can understand from the reading text that extremely large portions of healthy food _____.

- ☐ A are necessary for our general health
- ☒ B can still make us gain weight
- ☐ C are just as bad to our health as junk food
- ☐ D are no longer fashionable in the food industry