READING (20 pts.)

A. Read the text below and circle the best alternative. (5x2=10 pts.)

35. _____

Usually, people think of genius meaning highly intelligent person, whether it is in Mozart's composition of symphonies at age five or Einstein's discovery of relativity, as having a quality not just of the supernatural, but also of the unusual. People see genius as a good abnormality; moreover, they think of genius as a completely unpredictable abnormality. Until recently, psychologists regarded the qualities of genius as too unpredictable to describe intelligibly; however, Anna Findley's study uncovers predictable patterns in the biographies of geniuses. These patterns do not reject the common belief that there is a kind of supernatural thing in the lives of unusually talented men and women, however, even though they occur with regularity. For example, 34._____, and one of them always occurs shortly before their deaths; this is true whether the genius lives to 19 or 90.

31. According to the text, what is the general opinion of a genius?

- A) It is predictable and uncommon. C) It is arrogant and abnormal.
B) It is unpredictable and unusual. D) It is extraordinary and unusual.

32. According to the text, which of the following statements is TRUE?

- A) Anna Findley is a biographer who works with geniuses. C) All geniuses are strange and unpredictable.
B) Geniuses display some likely patterns in their lives. D) People see geniuses as superhumans.

33. What does the underlined word 'they' refer to in the text?

B) they can find great people throughout their lives to exchange ideas with
C) the researchers working on these people find that they have a major turning point in their lives
D) these geniuses may act abnormally in their private live more so than their daily interactions

35. Which of these can be the best title for the text?

- A) Beliefs Mozarts and Einsteins C) Predicting the Life of a Genius
B) The Strange Patterns in the Lives of Geniuses D) Pattern and Disorder in the Lives of Geniuses

B. Read the text below and circle the best alternative. (5x2=10 pts.)

Taking Care

In bringing up children, every parent, whatever their ethnicity, income, education, or geographic location is, watches closely the child's learning of each new skill. However, it is often tempting to hurry the child beyond his natural learning rate, which can set up dangerous feelings of failure and states of worry in the child. This might happen at any stage. A baby might be forced to use a toilet too early; a young child might be encouraged to learn to read before he knows the meaning of the words he reads. On the other hand, if a child, however, is left alone too much, or without any learning opportunities, he loses his natural drive for life and his desire to find out new things for himself. Parents vary greatly in their degree of strictness towards their children. Some may be especially strict in money matters. Others give importance to times of coming home at night or punctuality for meals. In general, these obligations represent the needs of the parents and the values of the community as well as the child's own benefit.

36. We understand from the text that watching the child's learning process of new skills ____.

- A) sets up dangerous states of worry in the parents C) is universal among parents
B) guarantees the security of their children D) will make him lose interest in learning

37. According to the text, in the process of children learning new skills, parents ____.

- A) must encourage them to read before they know the meaning of the words they read
B) should achieve a balance between pushing them too hard and leaving them on their own
C) must apply strict rules for the children to encourage their learning
D) should create as many learning opportunities as possible for themselves

38. What does the word 'drive' mean in the text?

- A) regret B) depression C) enthusiasm D) reality

39. Which one of the below is the best summary of the text?

- A) Parental control reflects only the needs of the parents and the values of the community.
B) Parents must keep strict control over their children's pocket money.
C) Parents often apply strict regulations on their children's eating habits.
D) Parental restrictions differ and aren't always applied for the benefit of the children alone.

40. Where does the text come from?

- A) a children's textbook C) an ad of a psychologist
B) a magazine for parents D) a review of scientific research
